

Project ChildSafe:
Program Resources and Recommendations for 4-H Shooting Sports

What Can Be Done At The National Level:

- Post the “Own It, Respect It. Secure It” Badge on your website. You can find that here:
<http://www.projectchildsafe.org/get-involved/spread-the-message>
- Issue Joint Release with Project ChildSafe, post on Facebook and post on Website Newsroom under “Just In,” and announce in national newsletter.
- Link to the resources available on the PCS website at:
<http://www.projectchildsafe.org/supporter-orgs/supporter-toolkit>
This library of resources includes brochures, tip sheets, videos and other tools that are easily printed out and shared.
- Link to our new video, “How to Talk to Kids About Firearm Safety,” here:
<http://www.projectchildsafe.org/talking-to-kids>
- Announce partnership to State Coordinators and encourage them to get involved/share this information and take the steps below.

What State Coordinators Can Do

- Sign up as state-level supporters at:
<http://www.projectchildsafe.org/become-a-supporter>
- Post the “Own It, Respect It. Secure It” Badge on their website, available at:
<http://www.projectchildsafe.org/get-involved/spread-the-message>
- Link to the library of resources available from PCS either through the National 4-H program page, or at:
<http://www.projectchildsafe.org/supporter-orgs/supporter-toolkit>

- Post an article online (website and/or social media) or in their newsletters to announce partnership and availability of resources. (We can provide a template article or this can be based on the joint press release.)
- Link to our new video, “How to Talk to Kids About Firearm Safety,” here: <http://www.projectchildsafe.org/talking-to-kids>
- Announce partnership to local/community coordinators and encourage them to get involved/share this information and take the steps below.

What Can Be Done At The Local/Community Level

- Sign up as supporters at: <http://www.projectchildsafe.org/become-a-supporter>
- If they have websites, post the “Own It, Respect It. Secure It” Badge on their website, available at: <http://www.projectchildsafe.org/get-involved/spread-the-message>
- Link to the library of resources available from PCS either through the National 4-H program page, or at: <http://www.projectchildsafe.org/supporter-orgs/supporter-toolkit>
- Bring PCS materials (including the Children’s Pledge) to local events and encourage people to talk to their kids about firearm safety.
- Join with one of our law enforcement partners to host a firearm safety event in the community. Our list of law enforcement partners is here: <http://www.projectchildsafe.org/safety/get-a-safety-kit>
- If a community doesn’t have a local law enforcement partner listed (or if there is a partner listed, but they don’t have any locks), it would be immensely helpful if the local club would encourage the law enforcement agency to sign up. It’s free and only takes about 2 minutes. The place for Law Enforcement to sign up and to order locks is here: <http://www.projectchildsafe.org/for-law-enforcement>
